

UNITED STATES SERVICE CORPS™

United States University Public Service Institution

Institutional Brief

6 September 2026 | First website edition

SERVING AMERICA'S NEXT 250.

The United States Service Corps™ is a United States University Public Service Institution advancing resilience, character, readiness, education, human connection, leadership, economic mobility and organized public service.

Mission

United States Service Corps strengthens people, families and communities through integrated education, resilience, mentorship, human development and service. The institution connects personal capability with opportunity, honorable leadership, community unity and contribution across generations.

The 250 Mission

250 years behind us. The next generation ahead of us. United States Service Corps invests in the people, families, leaders and communities shaping the nation's next chapter. Ten target campaigns connect schools, mentors, veteran leaders, fathers, families, communities, acts of service, opportunities, community partners and FORGEFIT Games activations. Targets are identified separately from verified results.

A connected institution

Education, resilience, mentorship, character, human development, family support, occupational preparation and service connect people with practical capability and opportunity. Participants can learn, create, earn and serve concurrently.

Resilience, movement and leadership

SEAL 250™

SEAL 250™ advances Service, Excellence, Accountability and Leadership through resilience training, mentorship, physical wellness, character development, education, service and pathways to opportunity. Connect growth with contribution, responsibility and purpose beyond oneself.

FORGEFIT USA™

FORGEFIT USA™ is the human-performance, resilience, readiness and community-strength platform of United States Service Corps™. Functional training, strength, endurance, mobility, yoga, breathwork, somatic awareness, recovery, mental resilience, teamwork, character and service form a connected approach to human development.

FORGEFIT Adaptive™

FORGEFIT Adaptive™ develops accessible routes into movement, strength, skill, recreation, community participation and competition. Adapt. Build. Rise. Participants shape their goals alongside qualified instructors and, where appropriate, their clinical support team. Personal progress, confidence, skill and service are complementary measures of achievement.

FORGEFIT Games™

FORGEFIT Games™ brings year-round training, community participation and multidiscipline resilience events together. Stronger together. Choose competitive athletic disciplines, participatory community and family challenges, or guided wellness, learning and recovery experiences. Each track receives equivalent respect and community access.

The inaugural FORGEFIT Games identity is 2027. Dates, venues, registration and qualification details follow verified event decisions. Interest requests are separate from athlete registration.
